"Broadway Babies"

WITH

Alice White-Charles DeLamey-Marion Byron

"Broadway Babies," as big and as bright as all Broadway. Plenty of pep and joy in this special production—Don't Miss It!

Mothers! Have You a Young Sprout In Your Home?

That's the 1929 version of the flapper! According to Alice White it is almost as old-fashioned to call a gal of the modern school a flapper as it is to call her "kiddo." The "little woman" is another new title the "big boy" or the "heavy sugar" inflicts upon the "red-hot mamma," but for the sweet young thing of the gay '29s, a "sprout" is quite the newest in titles and the provocative First National star, Alice White, is in the front line trenches. Just see her Friday and Saturday in "Broadway Babies," the sensational entertainment.

CROWD ST PASS HOCKEY LEAGUE REVIVES

Interest in hockey has been considerably revived during the past week, following a number of meetings in the various towns constituting the territory to be covered by the Crows' Nest Pass League.

Meetings were held for the formation of local clubs at Coleman, Hillcrest, Bellevue, Lethbridge and Blairmore, and in all the outlook for the season was found to be much brighter than for a time past anticipated. Each town has organized locally and are lining up material, while each club has decided to become affiliated into the C.N.P. League.

The official formation of the League was consummated at a largely attended meeting held at Blairmore on Sunday last. Representatives were present from Lethbridge, Coleman, Hillcrest, Bellevue and Blairmore, and keen interest was manifested.

The election of officers resulted as follows: W. H. Chappell, Blairmore, president; J. V. McDougall, Blairmore, secretary; W. Wright, Coleman; E. C. Costick, Bellevue; R. Delaney, Hillcrest, and one to be named for Lethbridge, to form the executive. Teams must register their players not later than December 15th.

G. CRUICKSHANKS IS NEW HOCKEY PRESIDENT

At the annual meeting of the Alberta Amateur Hockey Association, held in Lethbridge, Mr. George Cruickshanks, of Hillcrest, was elected president, while the office of secretary was left to be filled later. Dr. Sandercock, past president of both the C.A.H.A. and A.A.H.A., was made a life member. In appreciation of efficient services given during the past three years, A. B. King, of Okotoks, immediate past president, was presented with a gold medal; Dr. Sandercock and Frank Drayton, will also receive medals.

The new vice-president is Dr. J. B. Long, of Red Deer; while Dr. W. G. Hardy, of Edmonton; Dr. J. S. Irving, of Lacombe; Mr. D. P. McDonald, of Calgary, and Mr. L. L. Morgan, of Blairmore, form the executive.

In the ladies' section, Mrs. Coleman and Miss Ross, of Edmonton, were re-elected president and secretary, respectively.

Amateur hockey in the province has been on a gradual increase, due mostly to the able work of the officials, and prospects are brighter for this coming season than ever before.

Under the guidance of the association, there were fifty-seven teams in action last winter.

CARD OF THANKS

The members of St. Luke's Guild, Blairmore, wish to thank all who assisted in any way to make their bazaar a success.

The result of the drawings in connection with the bazaar were as follows: Bride's outfit, won by Miss Dorothy Cox; groom's outfit, Dr. F. J. Martin; lamp, Miss Gladys Morgan. The ring will be drawn for later, as very few tickets were sold. Tickets can be had from members of the Guild.

INSTITUTE PUBLIC LIBRARY

New books added to the shelves this week include the following titles: "Trader Van Horn," "Life of Sir Wilfred Grenfell," "Life of Wilberforce," "Modern Use of the Bible," "Fosdick," "The New Japanese Wonderland," "Thousand Miles up the Nile," and "Man's Social Destiny." Altogether, twenty-six new volumes were added this week. If you cannot find any of above books, ask at desk. Hours, Tuesdays and Saturdays, 7 to 9 p.m.

Capt. W. A. Beebe was a business visitor to Calgary last week end.

"THE ROSARY" GOING OVER WITH A BANG

"The Rosary," a four act drama being staged by the Blairmore Players for two successive nights of this week, went over strong in the opener last night at the opera house.

The play is being directed by Mrs. J. Packer, who also takes the leading part among the lady characters. The balance of the personnel comprises: R. W. H. Pinkney, as Father Kelly; R. Wootton, as Bruce Wilton; J. R. McLeod, as Kenward Wright; Leonard McDonald as Charley Harrow; J. V. McDougall as Skeeter; Mrs. Packer as Vera Wilton and Alice Marsh; Miss Flora Warner as Kathleen O'Gonny; and Miss Louise Krapman as Lesura Watkins. All the artists performed their parts exceptionally well and it would be unfair to pick out any one as deserving of special mention. But the character of Father Kelly could not have been better presented than the performance of Mr. Pinkney.

The play will be presented again tonight, when a crowded house is assured. The proceeds of these entertainments will be devoted towards the Christmas Cheer fund of the local Elks' lodge, under whose auspices the company appears.

MUSICAL COMEDY

SATURDAY NIGHT

As we go to press we learn that arrangements have been made whereby the Western Producers will present their fun show and musical comedy at the local opera house on Saturday night, commencing at 8 o'clock.

This company features Sandy McNab, Canada's versatile Scotchman, with his fiddle; Keith Sisters in "nasty songs and dances"; Betty Adams in impersonations; Phoebe Sklar, the whistling extemporer; June Winkate in old and new songs, and Stan Braham in comedy. Most of these artists are well known to patrons of Panagies and Capitol theatres, recently played three weeks in Edmonton and six weeks in Calgary.

INA CLAIRE AND JOHN ROCHE IN BIG CAST OF "THE AWFUL TRUTH"

When Ina Claire was appearing in one of the biggest stage successes of her career, "The Gold Diggers," John Roche was playing just around the corner on Broadway in another David Belasco production, "Deburau." Then Roche cast his lot with motion pictures and today he is appearing in Miss Claire's first all-talking Pathé screen production, "The Awful Truth," which will have its premier showing at the Bellevue theatre this week.

One of the outstanding moments of the picture is the bazaar sequence in which Miss Claire sings two songs, "Sex Appeal," a comedy number, and another more romantic thing. Her voice and her gift of song delivery are superb and prove that Miss Claire's early experience in Ziegfeld Follies was not for nothing.

Marshall Neilan, who directed "The Awful Truth," has done one of the best pieces of work of his career. Smoothly presented and enacted, it shows clearly the hand of a master technician.

Miss Marie Lamey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Lamey, of Bellevue, left Saturday morning for Ursuline Convent, Quebec, where she will continue her studies. Marie will be with Mrs. Lamey's sister who is a member of that community. Enroute she will visit relatives at Toronto and Hastings. Before her departure several little farewell parties were given in her honor at which she received many little gifts. The hostesses were: Misses K. and S. Costick, Miss Barlass, Miss J. Radford and Mrs. J. J. McIntyre.

People Seem To Be Troubled With Health Madness

Articles are already appearing in daily papers on how to conquer "autumn depression." They follow quickly on tips for overcoming summer sickness. Very soon we shall be told the best way of relieving winter gloom, and after that we shall look eagerly for a specific against spring depression. Every season has its disability. We are rapidly becoming health mad. The great majority seem to be unable to make up their minds what to eat, drink, wear, or do without assistance.

Crossed River On Skis

Vienna Men Claim Speed Of Twelve Miles An Hour

A most amusing spectacle recently greeted the spectators on the London Embankment, when, without any warning, they suddenly came across two men, clad in bathing suits, attempting to cross the Thames by means of skis. It did not take many minutes for a wondering crowd to collect, and then, urged on by cheers and laughter, the two men, Student Franz Hirsch and Professor Michael Mitter, both from Vienna, set off on their journey across the river and back.

The skis were made of basket-work frames, and covered with waterproof. The wearer carries a small paddle with which he propels himself along. Apparently they answer their purpose well, and the two wearers claimed that they had achieved up to twelve miles per hour on the river Danube.

Washable Shoes

Cotton Footwear Said To Be More Comfortable Than Leather

It won't be long now until the ladies will take their shoes off, give them a few scrapes on the washboard, and hang them out to dry.

Washable cotton shoes were among the most interesting exhibits at the fashion show of the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers held in Boston, Mass.

The shoes in addition to being washable, will be much lighter and more comfortable than leather, exhibitors said. They are made of sudanette and sudanette fall-new cotton fabrics—and will have heels built on thin leather soles. The uppers, in pastel shades, will be bordered with a fringe of beaver embroidery.

Precision In Levelling

Only Slight Error Made In Running Line Of Levels 5,647 Miles

In a line of precise levels run across the continent from mean sea level on the Atlantic to mean sea level on the Pacific, the engineers of the Geodetic Survey of Canada obtained an apparent difference of elevation of only about six inches. On the assumption that the mean sea levels of the two oceans are about the same, this indicates that only the above slight error was made in running a line of levels 5,647 miles in length.

Tests For Air Pilots

Prospective Flier Has To Pass Rigid Examination Half-Yearly In States

Can you stand on one foot fifteen seconds, with your eyes closed and the other leg bent backward at the knee, and not fall? If so, and if your ears are healthy and your gait shows no disturbance, you have passed the equilibrium test given airplane pilots. The old whirling chair test has been discarded.

But that doesn't mean the prospective pilot's physical examination is ended. More than 700 physicians over the United States, under the direction of Dr. H. L. Bauer, of the Department of Commerce, are seeking to protect passengers against accident due to any physical defect on the part of the pilot.

First come the eyes, defects of which cause 75 per cent. of the rejections for unfitness. The pilot's eyes must have depth perception, for a flier constantly must judge distance in taking off and landing. Eye muscle co-ordination is necessary.

"Lack of co-ordination and the ability to maintain single vision," says Dr. Bauer, "is likely to cause fatigue. Fatigue causes headaches. Headaches cause inattention. Inattention causes carelessness."

Color vision is important, too, because the pilot must be able to recognize navigation lights and other signals. Shades of brown and green, and the ground indicate the character of the terrain to a flier. A wide field of vision is essential because a pilot must be able to see objects out of the corner of his eye while looking straight ahead. Then general physical examination is thorough, with the nervous system drawing special attention. After a pilot is once examined and passed, he is required to take physical examinations semi-annually.

Recipes For This Week

(By Betty Barclay)

RICE CUSTARD SUPREME

1/2 lb. shredded coconut.
2 eggs.
2 cups of milk.
1/4 teaspoon salt.
1/2 cup sugar.
1 1/2 cups cooked rice.
1/2 teaspoon vanilla.

Beat the eggs thoroughly, yolks and whites together. Add the milk, salt and sugar; stir in the rice, coconut and vanilla, and turn into a baking dish. Place a pan of hot water and bake twenty to thirty minutes in a moderate oven—about 350 degrees Fahrenheit.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

NOVEMBER 17
LIVING WITH PEOPLE OF OTHER RACES

Golden Text: "Of a truth I perceive that God is no respecter of persons; but in every nation he that feareth Him, and worketh righteousness, is acceptable to Him." Acts 10:34, 35.

Lesson: Ruth 1:1-18; John 4:5-10; Acts 10:1 to 11:18; Romans 1:24; Galatians 3:28, 29.

Devotional Reading: Ephesians 3:14-21.

Explanations and Comments

Racial Prejudices Must Be Overcome, Acts 10:1-15.—There was a Roman centurion at Caesarea, Cornelius by name, a very devout man who feared God, and was generous with the poor. One day in a vision he seemed to hear an angel saying to him, "Pray, and thine arms have gone up for a memorial before God," and bidding him send to Joppa for a man named Peter. At once Cornelius sent two of his servants in search of Peter. Joppa was on the seacoast thirty miles west of Jerusalem.

On the morning as the servants were approaching Joppa, Peter went up on the housetop to pray. He was hungry and while waiting for food to be prepared, he fell into a trance. In this trance Peter beheld a receptacle resembling a great sheet let down from heaven by its four corners, and in it all manner of four-footed beasts and creeping things and birds, and he heard a voice bidding him kill and eat. "Not so, Lord, I have never eaten anything that is common or unclean," he exclaimed. "Horrified, Peter had strictly observed the Levitical law which prescribed what animals were clean and how they should be slaughtered.

God Is No Respector Of Persons, Acts 10:34.—While Peter was pondering the meaning of the vision, the messengers sent by Cornelius arrived, and he lodged them in his house over night, putting at once into practice his understanding of the vision.

At the door of another man, whom once he would have called unclean. The day following Peter went with the messengers to the home of Cornelius. He took the precaution to take with him six brethren, for he felt he was doing a venturesome thing and he wanted witnesses.

Caesarea was on the seacoast thirty miles from Joppa. On reaching there, he found Cornelius and many Gentile kinsmen and friends of the latter awaiting him. Cornelius told about the vision which had led him to send for the apostle, and added, "Now therefore we are all here present in the sight of God, to hear all things that have been commanded thee of the Lord."

"And Peter opened his mouth and said" (these words indicate the solemnity of the occasion and the weightiness of Peter's message): "God has no favorites, and he who revereth Him lives a good life in any nation is welcomed by Him."—Moffatt's Translation.

Cultivate National Spirit

John Imrie Tells Easterners About Our Greatest Problem

"While we have many economic problems in Canada, our greatest problem is not economic but spiritual. It requires maintenance of a national outlook and a national spirit in the face of a geography that is a constant invitation to sectionalism," said John Imrie, managing director of the Edmonton Journal, in an address at Halifax recently.

Mr. Imrie spoke on "Carving out a new Northwest," and declared the present movements to the north and west of Canada were much broader than previous immigration and settlement waves.

Referring to unemployment recommendations of the Duncan report, he said: "The rest of Canada owes it to the Maritimes to see that these recommendations are made effective."

A Unique Cricket Match

A cricket match between sides of 400 each—played in Samoa for a stake of 100 kegs of beer—lasted for three months and ended in a free fight. The teams represented two native villages, which at the end of the three months were in a state of starvation because the men had neglected their families in favor of the game! Thus the free fight, in which several lives were lost.

B.C. Coal Production

Spectacles For Color Blind

Special Glass Absorbs Rays Troublesome To Such Persons

Spectacles through which a color-blind person can distinguish colors like people with normal eyes, are finally promised, at least for new varieties of color-blindness, by new glass materials, perfected by Professor Franz Welford, of the Technical College in Berlin. The materials resemble ordinary glass but contain the rare chemical elements neodymium and praseodymium. In thin sheets of lenses like those used in spectacles, the new glasses seem almost perfectly transparent. Examination with a spectroscopic discloses, however, that certain rays of the complete rainbow-colored spectrum into which white light is separated by that instrument are missing after the rays have passed through the new glass. The glasses absorb these rays, the particular ray which is absorbed differing for different chemical compositions of the new glass. The rays chiefly absorbed happen to be orange and yellow ones, the German physicist reports, standing in the spectrum between the red and the green, which are two of the colors most troublesome to color-blind persons. The removal of these intermediate rays by the new glasses acts, it is found, to increase the apparent contrast between red and green so that spectacles of the new glasses are expected to make the distinction of those two colors easier for people who are color-blind.

Exact Distance Important

Astronomers Must Know How Far Away Sun Is

The distance of the sun is to be measured through work at the University of Cincinnati in co-operation with the Royal Observatory of Berlin. The latest computation, accepted by astronomers fixes the mileage at 92,900,000, believed to be within 50,000 miles of the exact distance.

"Why bother about fifty thousand miles?"

"Because," answers Dr. Jermain G. Porter, director of the Cincinnati Observatory, "most important of all the problems presented by astronomy is that of finding how far away the sun is. For this distance is our measuring rod by which we determine the exact extent, not only of the solar system, but of the vast outlying universe as well."

Astronomers use a planet as a stepping stone to help them reach out with more accurate computations toward the sun's exact position. They get a measurement of the distance to a nearby planet, and then use it as an aid in the present measurements. Eros, the latest planet discovered, found only a few years ago, and but 14,000,000 miles away from the earth is the stepping stone. At the beginning of 1931 it will be in a very favorable position for the solar work. Meanwhile, several years of preparation are necessary.

The Singing Fool

By HUBERT DAILEY
Copyright, 1922, Warner Bros. Pictures, Inc.

SYNOPSIS

Al Stone, singing waiter at Blackie Joe's New York night club, is loved by Grace Farrel, the cigarette girl, but he does not know that. He marries Molly Winton, a ballad singer, and wins fame as a composer of popular songs. When they marry, Junior, Al's about two years old, Molly elopes with John Perry, Al's best friend, taking the child. Molly consents to a last farewell between Al and Junior before she sails for France. After this takes place at a park entrance Al walks towards the center of the city, completely broken by his tragic loss. He plans to leave the Broadway night life and disappear. The lights of evening flick the sky.

CHAPTER XXI

But, in order to live, Al knew he must create a new life for himself. The old life was closed. He felt himself entirely alien to night club life and the whole Broadway life. If he wrote a song it would be so tragic and filled with pain that no song-publisher or revue producer would want it. No, there was nothing for him to do but disappear from the old haunts.

In a few days, when he had pulled himself together, he would see Cline and collect on his share of the ownership of the Club Bombo. Then—goodbye!

He had reached the end of the park, at 50th Street. How the city roared; the night life was beginning, the life of which he had been a living part only a short time ago. He glanced at his watch—almost six o'clock. They were ordering all the visitors ashore from the De France; in a few moments the gang-plank would be lifted and the big floating hotel of a liner would pull away from the dock.

Days passed; and Broadway saw no more of Al Stone. Where had he gone? His friends asked. Billy Cline, his former business partner, but Billy could only shake his head and say he didn't know. Marcus wanted Al to write some new numbers for a revue he had in rehearsal, but there was no Al to be found.

clothes were old and nondescript, his face was thinner and the cheerful kindly glow in his eyes had vanished.

Nevertheless the man who stared at her in sudden recognition for a moment was Al—she was sure of it. She walked back to the corner and followed the direction he had taken. But either Al moved faster than she or he had darted up an alley, for she saw no sign of him. Thoughtfully she retraced her steps, her mood and expression, sobered by the tragic implications of the sight she had just witnessed. So that was Al, breezy, wise-cracking, generous Al—the man who had been the hero of her girlhood three years ago, the man she had loved so devotedly! That was the youthful singing waiter whose rapid rise to fame had been one of the romances of Broadway and whose disappearance, into, obscurity had been one of the mysteries of the Street of Lights.

Grace had followed Al's career with the keenest attention from the first time when he left Blackie's night club until recently. She knew every story of his triumphs, every version of his disastrous marriage, as they were gossiped about in cabaret circles, uptown and down, and as they appeared in newspapers and theatrical weeklies. For a year after Al left Blackie's her love for him had remained, first a throbbing recollection within her, then a faint murmur from the past.

But after he seemed to visit Blackie's and became so definitely a figure belonging to Broadway, this spirit of love became like the last note of an echo—it seemed to pass away lightly. Before that he had been a part of her life, afterward he was just a graceful and vague figure who had once stirred her as no man had been able to do since that time.

Grace had stayed on at Blackie Joe's. She had no sentimental talent to carry her to the peaks of Broadway success; she could not sing and dance professionally. She possessed a lovely and delicate beauty, unwavering loyalty, keen intuition, plain common-sense and a frank, unpolished nature. These qualities, while they may be among the most important in life, may not win fame for the persons who possess them.

Grace was obscure, but still she had led her life successfully. After Al was swallowed up by Broadway, Blackie Joe, himself, had kept a kindly eye on her and saw she was protected from the ruffian among his customers. Soon he had promoted her for the job of cigarette girl and raised her salary. Now she was his assistant manager; she kept track of his accounts and checked the waiters when they carried food and drink to the customers.

Blackie had felt terribly sorry for Grace after Al went off to marry Molly—he was the only living person, with the exception of Grace, herself, who had any conception of the deep love the former cigarette girl had for Al. Blackie often asked himself—Why on earth wasn't Al able to see that? When Blackie read of Molly's desertion he nodded sadly.

Now, as Grace pursued her way, a flood of memories swept across her mind—Al as he used to look in his waiter clothes, Al as he had sung his first love ballad—"Always"—to Molly on the floor of Blackie's club, Al as she had once seen him at an uptown night club, resplendent in fine clothes, Al as she had seen his picture in the papers with Molly and his baby Junior.

Grace still recalled how the news of Junior's arrival had sent a stabbing throb through her heart that she did not understand. Then came an intense longing to see the baby that Al fathered. But that too was a faint memory—now.

It was afternoon and Grace was not due at Blackie's until evening. However, she wanted to tell the night club owner her news, so she changed her course and mounted the familiar, shabby steps. The main room was dark and deserted, but Blackie was in his office. He glanced up as Grace entered.

Centres of Lumbering
The Ottawa Valley becomes the most important centre of commercial activity in the lumber industry of Canada with the beginning of the trade in rafting its square timber to Quebec for export. The Georgian Bay and Rainy River districts were developed and although the industry is now established over the entire Dominion, these districts are still among the chief lumbering regions in Eastern Canada.

Australia, New Zealand and Argentina, are the greatest wood-producing centres.

Wins Asquith Cup

Miss Pearl Miller, a New Canadian Is Awarded Coveted Trophy

Miss Pearl Miller, 19, a new Canadian, is this year's winner of the silver challenge cup presented to the pupils of Asquith school by the late Earl of Oxford and Asquith. The trophy is awarded annually to the most proficient pupil.

Miss Miller, now attending Saskatoon Normal School, came to Canada from Russia in 1924, and was then unable to speak English. From August, 1925, to June, 1926, she attended public school in Saskatoon, and covered the work of grades 1 to 8 inclusive. In 1926 she moved to Asquith, and took her high school work in the next three years.

BABY'S OWN TABLETS

WIN GREAT PRAISE

Many Mothers Always Keep Them In The House

Thousands of mothers state that they know of no other medicine for little ones to equal Baby's Own Tablets—that they always keep the Tablets in the home as a preventive of childhood ailments, or if sickness does suddenly grip their little ones they feel safe with such a remedy at hand.

Concerning the use of the Tablets Mrs. Donat Plouffe, Tingwick, Que., writes:—"I have nothing but praise for Baby's Own Tablets. They are the only medicine I have ever given my two little ones and I am glad to state that the Tablets have always kept them in perfect health. I feel so safe with the Tablets that I always keep a box in the house."

Baby's Own Tablets are a mild but thorough laxative. They regulate the bowels, sweeten the stomach, induce healthy digestion, break up colds and influenza fever and make the cutting of teeth painless. The Tablets are absolutely safe, being guaranteed free from all injurious drugs. They are sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 25c a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

True Friendship Is Rare

But Few People Make Any Effort To Retain It

We should never let a friend go out of our lives, if we can by any possibility help it. If misunderstanding arises, let them be quickly set right. Friendship is a too rare and sacred treasure to be thrown away lightly. And yet many people are not careful to retain friends. Some lose them through inattention, failing to maintain those little attentions, courtesies, kindnesses which cost so little and yet are hooks of steel to grapple and hold our friends.

John Bull a Poor Advertiser

Discovered That Great German Flying Boat Fitted With Engines Of British Design

When the great German flying boat sailed over Lake Constance the other day with the record human load of 169 persons, the world of aviation properly hailed it for what it appeared to be—a new triumph in the air for Germany. But all the story was not told at once. Germany may not claim all the triumph. The great craft is fitted with twelve engines, 523 horsepower each, of the British Jupiter design, made in German workshops under British license.

Little, if anything, appears to have been said about these engines until an aviation critic in Great Britain came out with the warning that the sight in question "throws British further behind in civil aviation and makes Germany the leader of commercial flight throughout Europe." Then the truth was told. As one Canadian correspondent in London says: "The curious British mentality which finds Britain backward in thousands of ways and foreign countries much more go-ahead has received a rude shock from the discovery about these engines." Once again John Bull has shown himself to be a poor advertiser.—Victoria Daily Times.

Send Mail By Rockets

Claimed That In Short Time Mail Will Be Carried By Rocket From Berlin To New York

It is confidently asserted by the German Professor, Oberth, that in a short time mail will be sent by rocket from Berlin to New York by a single propulsion. This means that letters thus sent will arrive in New York about a half hour later. The matter is taken so seriously that the American ambassador to Germany was prompted to say: "I must call attention to the fact that our government will insist that life and property be not endangered by the rockets landing; I cannot say what guarantees would be required, but if Professor Oberth asks permission to shoot a rocket to America the state department must be informed." As the American ambassador, Mr. Schurman, is a man of broad intelligence, it may be assumed that his acceptance of the possibility of such a feat is not ridiculous.

Rockets are, seemingly, the newest toys and instruments of a scientific age which profess to have nothing to do with the imagination. Rocketeers will soon be joining racketeers to disturb our peace and to turn the incredible into the commonplace.

Asthma Brings Misery, but Dr. J. D. Kellor's Asthma Remedy will replace the misery with welcome relief. Inhaled as smoke or vapor it reaches the very innermost recesses of the bronchial passages and soothes them. Restriction passes and easy breathing returns. This is an age of records—and the aptest root in the lot of R. L. Charles wishes to keep up with the spirit of the times. So it set out this spring with a record in mind. The single tree, according to Charles, bore 200 pounds of the fruit, of which the average size was two inches in diameter.

PROPOSAL TO PIPE GAS
TO THE CROWS' NEST PASS

Dr. Chas. Camsell, deputy minister of the interior, and other members of the gas conservation commission, arrived in Calgary on Tuesday, where they were awaited by C. C. Ross, supervisory engineer for the department of mines, and T. G. Madwick, geologist, department of mines, writes a staff correspondent in the Winnipeg Free Press from Calgary.

Sessions of the commission which were commenced last week in Edmonton will be resumed in Calgary and probably continue for some days. So far the sessions held have consisted chiefly of the reports of investigations made in oil fields in the United States where wastage of gas occurs, and a study of the conditions existing in these fields, together with the steps taken by the governments interested to reduce as far as possible waste in the production of oil. Members of the commission decline to discuss what steps they may have under consideration, but it is pointed out by the gas and oil operators of Turner Valley that there are no fields in the United States where conditions may be said to be analogous and that regulations which may be applicable in fields to the south would be difficult to put in to operation in the Turner Valley field.

Various suggestions have been made as to the utilization of the waste gas of Turner Valley, which is now said to be around three hundred million cubic feet, and to be steadily increasing with each new producing well, but most of them have been pronounced impracticable. One of these contemplates the piping of the gas eastward with Winnipeg as the ultimate objective, but against this it is pointed out that the length of life of Turner Valley is still very much of an unknown quantity; that the scheme would naturally be a costly one, probably running into an expenditure of around $50,000,000; and that while there would be many points of distribution on the prairies, there would not be sufficient consumption unless the objective of Winnipeg was reached, where gas, even at low rates, would be faced by the competition rates so far as domestic lighting and cooking is concerned. If it could be introduced for heating purposes, its consumption would largely be a winter one, or confined to about seven months of the year, and it would also then face the competition of central heating plants already established in Winnipeg and rapidly growing.

Another suggestion made recently by a well-known engineer is that instead of piping the gas eastward, it should be piped westward through the Crows' Nest Pass, where it would find many large markets in Trail and other towns and cities of the Rocky Mountains and could eventually be piped to Vancouver, approximately the same distance as to Winnipeg, but with an excellent all the year round market, particularly for house heating purposes.

Other suggestions include the export of gas to cities in the United States, and one permit already has been issued which would permit its export from what is known as the international field into United States territory, with the big reduction plants of the Anaconda company as the main objective.

Statistics gathered as regards the California field show nearly forty producing areas, having around 12,000 producing wells, which give approximately 370,000 barrels of oil every 24 hours with a gas wastage of 850,000,000 cubic feet a day.

Turner Valley has 31 productive wells, yielding about 4,000 barrels a day, with a gas wastage estimated now at 300,000,000 cubic feet per day, so that while California's production is great, its gas wastage is less than three times that of Turner Valley. This shows the gas and oil as being low compared with California.

Legislation in the state of California came into effect on September first designed to reduce this wastage to a minimum, its effect being to forbid production of oil from wells from which unburned gas was turned into air all gas turned into the air being considered as waste gas.

The effect of this legislation is being watched with much interest, its first result being the serving of a number of injunctions by the government off-

NO FIG BRIDGE YET—HOW COME

(Calgary Herald)

Joseph Emmanuel Garconi, a gentleman who hails from the land of Benito Mussolini, and who in the summer time peddles ripe vegetables for an existence, is extremely wrathful over the failure of the city council to endorse the building of a bridge at Twenty-fifth avenue and First street southeast.

In a letter to the commissioners and council, Mr. Garconi registered his objections as follows:

"That bridge on 25th avenue—I see by the paper you no fix her. How about my horse. She no can take my wagon across. One man call me to take load of wood. I drive five mile and when I come, Sagristi! no bridge. I go two miles more and when I get home with wood man say 'where hell you bin.' I tell him no bridge and why not city fix. He say go see Mr. Miller at cities hall who tell me with big 'best, sure we fix bridge. He's good guy but when I come with nodder load of wood, no dam bridge yet. How come?"

"Now, Mr. Gentleman, I ask you about it. I ask Mr. Savage for bridge and he say, 'Sure Joe—two no troupe.' What hell do that mean? My poor horse have to go too far—I think city should build bridge or my poor horse she fall down and die from exhaustion, hoping you are the same."

BUY ALBERTA-MADE PRODUCTS FOR CHRISTMAS

At this season of the year, when thoughts are turning to Christmas and the exchanging of presents, it would be well for the citizens of Alberta to remember the efforts of the Alberta Development Board in its campaign urging the purchase of Alberta Made Goods.

The merchants of the province cooperate in stockpiling and displaying Alberta Made Products. How can we expect the retailer to do his part if the consumers do not take the step in the right direction and make their purchases wherever possible of the products of Alberta's factories?

The manufacturers of the Province are prepared to stand by the quality of their products and only ask for business on the merits of their goods. They make as good, if not better, products as are produced elsewhere.

The farmers of the province know that part of their revenue comes from the city and it is only an act of co-operation for them to buy Alberta Made Goods in return. Money spent in our own province comes back to us again but money spent for goods produced outside of the province goes away and keeps on travelling.

It is only by working in harmony that the greatest good can be accomplished. Ask your storekeeper to show you some of the products of Alberta's manufacturers. Let's all work together this Christmas and support Alberta Made Products.

Here and There

History was made in Canada when Chief Timistaw Wapishkew (Hut-las Deer), of the Ojibwa, met and greeted in all friendliness Chief Owan-into (Horn of the Iniquity), of the Chinook, at the Indian Reserve, near Montreal, recently. There is no record of this first meeting ever having met before in Canadian history. The Ojibwa Chief is better known as Paul Cameron, and the Chinook as Chief of the Indian Reserve. Neither could speak a word of the other's language and conversed through the medium of English.

Judges of the annual fishing contests held at French River, Nipigon and Devil's Gap (Lake of the Woods) brought home, have announced the winners as follows:—W. H. Gray of New York and Frank S. Simpson of Chicago, tied for the trophy at French River with a 30-lb muscogone each; J. H. Linn of Hammond, Ind., won the Nipigon trophy with a 74-lb muscogone, closely followed by Mrs. Burns of Kalamazoo, Mich., with a 70-lb muscogone; and A. R. Joslin, Jr., of Cincinnati, took the Devil's Gap trophy with a 68-lb muscogone.

"The destinies of Canada and Japan lie together in the great Pacific Ocean," declared Hon. Iyemasa, Tokugawa, Japanese minister to represent the Emperor of Japan, when he reached Dominion Hall here with the arrival of the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of France, at Vancouver recently. He was accompanied by Togo Putnam, Japanese Consul-General, both of them being on their way to Ottawa, where the former later delivered his credentials.

What is regarded as a record movement was made recently at the Saskatchewan Wheat Pool Elevator No. 7 at Port Arthur, when 450,000 bushels of wheat were transferred from the elevator to the hold of the steamship Empress. There were periods during the loading of the ship when the wheat was carried like a torrential golden river from the elevator at the rate of 2,664 bushels per minute.

Fifty different steamship lines now serve to carry Canadian products to every continent from the port of Vancouver, states a recent trade review issued by the Royal Bank of Canada. The review adds that in a period when the other great ports have had difficulty in maintaining their pre-war volume of trade, traffic through the port of Vancouver has experienced steady growth. From 125 ocean-going ships in 1913, the number increased to 1,344 in 1928. During the past year total trade of the port had a value of $269,000,000.

The largest sugar beet crop on record in Southern Alberta is being harvested in the Raymond district, centre of the industry. About 8,500 acres were sown to sugar beets this year, 2,000 more than in 1928, and the crop will on estimate yield about 65,000 tons or 25,000 above last year's production.

Cable advice from London state that Captain Donald Stuart, V.R., D.S.O., U.S.N.C., R.N.R., commander of the Canadian Pacific liner "Empress of York" has been officially selected to attend the Armistice Day ceremonies at the Cenotaph in London. Captain Stuart is one of the youngest liner captains on the North Atlantic and the only one, when he returns to the Victoria Cross. It is expected that he will also be present at the "Dinner of War" dinner to V.C.s.

"We manufacture 15 million pieces of toilet paper in Great Britain, but not enough of it comes into Canada and we are seriously considering the opening of a Canadian factory to cater direct to the Canadian people," said Sir Harry Mackintosh, head of the famous British candy firm of the same name, interviewed on his arrival aboard S.S. Duchess of Bedford at Quebec recently.

One of the most beautiful and costly displays in the recent Exhibition at Toronto was the exquisite diamond replica of the latest Canadian Pacific Hotel, the Royal York in Toronto. To build this unique miniature which was valued at over $200,000, more than 15,000 Ellis faultless quality diamonds were utilized. These were mounted on a framework of satin wood covered with the finest wax. The miniature was drawn true to scale and measured 15 inches high by 12 inches broad.

The farm of James H. Walker, at Raymond, Alberta, of which 70 acres were sown to Kharik wheat, yielded 2,500 bushels of 10 bushels to the acre, says the Lethbridge Herald. This particular crop was produced on a summer fallow field. The farm is diversified and rotated. Sugar beets do well on it and there is a flock of 2,000 sheep to help keep it in shape.

In a summary of the wheat situation the Manitoba Free Press points out that wheat is scarce so high this year as to offer to a considerable degree the shortage in the crop of Western Canadian wheat. It says: "The new seedling so high in many years. The present content of samples so far checked ranks the highest for the West has known since the practice of testing for protein was inaugurated."

The Problem of Narcotics

The evil of narcotics is one that strikes both directly and indirectly at the home.

There are about 8,000 drug addicts, or dope fiends, as they are more commonly called, in Canada. They consume and here is an even more startling figure, about $60,000 worth of drugs every day.

The danger from the widespread use of narcotics in Canada, is that drug addicts breed drug addicts; each one is an agency of evil who will try to pull other victims into the mire in which he finds himself.

The four main drugs that have assailed Canada are opium, morphine, cocaine and heroin. Opium is the juice of the white poppy, cultivated mainly in Hindustan and Asiatic Turkey, and thickened by evaporation.

Opium would not be so important to us, but for the fact that other drugs that are used most extensively in Canada, come from opium.

About one hundred and twenty-five years ago, a French chemist found that he could produce another drug, morphine, which was named after the god of sleep, Morpheus, from opium.

Sixty-five years later another chemist, this one an Austrian, found by experimenting with cocoa leaves that he could produce cocaine.

Just thirty years ago, a German chemist found he could take from opium still another drug, which was called heroin. It is three or four times stronger than morphine, and is blamed largely for the increase in drug usage on this continent since the war. At first heroin was not believed to be habit-forming, and was used on that assumption. But two years after its discovery, it was found to be as bad, if not worse, in getting a grip on its victim. It has been denounced by the medical profession as not at all necessary for their purpose. But it continues to use throughout the world, a dangerous drug, without any redeeming feature or excuse for its existence.

All these three drugs, morphine, cocaine and heroin, are white powders, bitter to the taste and soluble in water. All are deleterious, both mentally and physically. The habitual use of any of them will bring death with inexorable certainty. Opium is the slowest to kill, morphine, the next, while heroin is the most rapid of all.

For example, to compare the drug habit with the liquor habit, five ounces of alcohol is considered a fatal dose. Five ounces of morphine taken at one time will kill fifteen hundred men.

Chemistry has given us these drugs, and passed them on to the medical profession. The doctors used them, with the exception of heroin, to assuage pain. But mankind was not satisfied with that, and the use of these drugs spread to people who did not need them. Now the combined wisdom of chemistry, medicine, and governments, is not sufficient to strike down the peril.

There are fantastic stories at times of people who have become drug addicts because they were given one of these drugs in a time of need, and that one administration made them addicts. Those are very rare cases, and hardly need to be taken into consideration. The use of drugs is spread about almost entirely by people who profit greatly by creating other addicts.

Thousands of tons of poisonous drugs are consumed every year by the human race. Less than one per cent. of the total consumption is necessary for medicinal purposes.

Before heroin came into general use, adults were, in the main, the only addicts. The dealers in heroin, however, recruit among their customers young children. The average age of the heroin addict is about 22 years of age, which means that he must have become addicted some years before he was twenty.

Again to compare the drug habit with the liquor habit: It takes some time of regular drinking before a youth becomes a regular drunkard. Not so with heroin. An ounce of heroin can make two thousand addicts within a week. As well as that, a drunkard sometimes serves as a useful example with which to point the warning finger. In fact a drunkard as a general rule, will advise others to keep away from the stimulant that caused his downfall. Not so the heroin addict. He begins right away to drag others into the net. He is used as a recruiting agent for the operators who are making the money. The more heroin he gets, the more he craves. He is told that in order to get more of it, he must introduce more customers. And so the peril spreads.

Airing a Grievance

Getting Irritation Out of Your System Makes You Feel Better

There is wisdom in letting people talk out their grievances. There is no other way to get rid of them. That is the reason why democracy thrives through free speech. If people have a grievance, let them talk it out. If they have a gripe, let them express it. Repression makes inner ugliness to become a poison. If you are wise, you will never seek to keep a man from expressing his irritations at his fellow men. Moreover, if you are really wise, you will understand how to deal with people who have a grievance. Let them get it out and they will have an opportunity to deal with their hearts after their emotions have had opportunity to express themselves.

When Pain Comes

What many people call indigestion very often means excess acid in the stomach. The stomach serves have been over-stimulated, and food ferments. The corrective is an alkali, which neutralizes excess instantly. And the best alkali known to modern science is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained the standard with physicians for 50 years since its invention. One spoonful of this harmless, tasteless alkali in water will neutralize instantly many times as much acid, and the symptoms disappear at once. You will never use crude methods when once you learn the efficiency of this. Go get a small bottle to try. Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. Each bottle contains full directions—any drugstore.

Fighting Forest Fires At Night

Miner's Carbide Lamp Used By Rangers In Work Of Extinguishing Fires

Equipment is now in use by the Forest Service, Department of the Interior, which enables rangers to fight forest fires at night, when such work is most valuable, owing to the fires dying down at dark. The chief item of special equipment is the miner's carbide lamp, which is attached to the fire-fighter's cap and is hoisted just above his forehead. This leaves his hands free to work, and gives the light just where desired, both for travel in reaching the fire and for the work of extinguishing the fire.

WOMEN WHO SUFFER

Anaemia Responsible For Most Of The Ills Of Girls and Women

Medical science teaches that most of the ills that afflict growing girls and women are due to the fact that the blood is either poor in quality or deficient in quantity. The cause of low spirits, languidness, the poor appetite, breathlessness, and the aching limbs, that many women suffer from, is an extremely common condition. It is not need for any woman to suffer in this way, for all the miseries of anaemia can be quickly banished by taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. It is an established fact that these pills create an abundance of new, high blood—their wonderful reputation is based on that.

Thousands of formerly weak and ailing women have cheerfully testified to the fact that they owe their restoration to good health to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. One of these is Mrs. Napoleon, of Tipton, P.E.I., who says: "I am anxious to say that I can strongly recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Before I began using them I was in an extremely nervous condition. I could not sleep, neither could I eat, and was constantly growing weaker. I felt run down by a doctor, but it did not seem to meet my condition, and then, on the recommendation of a friend, I began to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. By the time I had taken a couple of boxes there was no doubt they were helping me. I continued their use until I had taken six or seven boxes when I was again in the way of health. I always keep Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in the house, and if any member of the family feels run down the pills soon put them in good condition."

The best time to begin taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is the moment you feel the least bit out of sorts. Do not wait until you are so weak you will regret your little bit of energy. You can get these pills through any medical dealer or by mail, postage paid. 50 cents a box from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Power Of Sound Waves

If Highly Pitched They Will Do Much Damage

Living creatures can be struck dead by sound waves too highly pitched for the human ear to hear when, writes T. C. Bridges, these high frequency waves—called super-sonics—have been tried on animals and produced instant death. The sound appears to shatter the blood corpuscles, and death is as sure and sudden as if the creatures had been struck by lightning. Sound can do many things which seem mysterious and almost miraculous. For instance, fire can be extinguished by sound. Some little time ago Mr. Charles Gillingham, of California, gave a demonstration of the power of sound over flame, and by drawing a violin bow across a piece of aluminium extinguished a burning gas jet at fifty feet. Sound vibrations can not only break a wine glass but can damage a building. It is suspected that the deep, vibrating notes of organs can cause vibrations which may actually weaken the structure of a church or cathedral. The very latest wonder of sound is to make an aeroplane light up the aeroplane at which it is arriving merely by a note of its siren. This was done recently at Newark, New Jersey.

Canada's Economic Conditions

Confidence Is Felt By Big Financial Men In The Future Of The Dominion

In the face of the serious decline in prices of stocks, Premier Mackenzie King recently made a brief statement in the House of Commons in which he declared that economic conditions in Canada had never been sounder, nor faith in the development of the Dominion greater, if one was to judge by those indices used by the large financial and insurance companies. The hectic conditions which had prevailed recently might have an adverse effect on Canadian stocks, but Mr. King said that the confidence shown by foreign investors should in itself be a factor in inspiring confidence in the Dominion and its future.

It was at times like these, said Mr. King, that one realized the importance of stability in laws and general soundness of business in a country. Canada's position was secure, he thought, and he pointed to the growth all along the line of primary and secondary industries in the country. The fact that capital for investment was so freely offered in Canada showed the confidence that was felt in the future of the Dominion.

Premier Tolmie, Of British Columbia, To Be Present At Celebration Of Mount Rainer's Discovery

Nearly 100 years ago Dr. William Fraser Tolmie, physician of the first son's Bay Company, at Port Vancouver, Washington, trudged up the Puyallup River to Mount Rainer, the first white man to reach a peak now known as a scenic resort.

In 1923, the centenary of this expedition, Dr. Tolmie's son, premier of British Columbia, will be the guest of honor at a celebration of Mount Rainer's discovery.

The premier has accepted the invitation of the Rainer National Park advisory board to take the leading part in the ceremony a little over three years hence.

Joint Branch Line Programme Announced

For Alberta Railways

Announcement has been made jointly by Sir Henry Thornton and E. W. Beatty, of the branch line programme to be commenced in 1930 by the Northern Alberta railways. The presidents of the two transcontinental systems, which jointly own the Alberta railways, point out that under the agreement for acquisition the purchasers undertook to build within five years sixty miles of branch lines, in addition to the branches under construction by the government of Alberta at the time the purchase was made.

To meet the traffic needs of the district, and in fulfillment of statements previously made, the directors of the Northern Alberta railways, have, therefore, decided to recommend to the government and to the directors of the Canadian Pacific, the commencement in 1930 of a line from Hythe to Rolla, a distance of fifty miles, and from Fairview westward, a distance of 15 miles. In addition, the Northern Alberta railways will, during the coming year, undertake to investigate the traffic possibilities of an extension west from Spirit River and from a point at or near Grimshaw, to serve the Battle River district in which considerable settlement has taken place.

The programme announced is of considerable magnitude and confirms the statement already issued that in the opinion of the Canadian National and Canadian Pacific companies, the most important and immediate work in the development of the Peace River area is the construction of branch line mileage.

A Remarkable Tree

White Pine Tree In Ontario Yields 17 Cords Of Wood

Remarkable in size, symmetry and the soundness of its wood, a white pine tree which has been lying 40 or 50 years or more on the farm of Norman Reid on Colongue Lake, in the North Bay (Ont.) district, was utilized recently for wood.

It yielded 17 cords. The pine measured 44 feet from the tip to the base, which showed a diameter of five feet 10 inches. Twenty feet higher up the diameter was but six inches less. The first branch was three feet through and the second two feet six inches. The stump bears evidence that the tree was felled either completely or partially, possibly half a century ago, remaining in a wonderful state of preservation through the changing seasons.

Meeting Of Two Seas

Uniting Of Mediterranean And Red Sea Foretold By Jules Verne

August last witnessed the diamond jubilee of the opening of the Suez Canal. In 1869 the waters of the Mediterranean and the Red Sea met and mingled for the first time, although the canal was not opened for traffic until November. It is interesting to remember that Jules Verne imagined an underground tunnel uniting the two seas, running under the isthmus, and that he makes Captain Nemo take his under-sea craft—the prototype of the submarine—right through it.

Canadian Fliers Organize

First Convention Of Its Kind Held At Fort William

With nearly 20 delegates from coast to coast in attendance, the first all-Canada aviation convention was held recently at Fort William. J. A. Sully, president of the Winnipeg Flyers Club, was chosen chairman of the initial meeting.

The first business of the convention was the organization of a central body of the flying clubs throughout the Dominion, to be known officially as the "Canadian Flying Club Association." This association will be official spokesman of the various clubs throughout the Dominion, and will attempt to solve many of the problems which today face aviators from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

Delegates from the several clubs will be known as the board of governors and this body annually will choose a president, five vice-presidents, one honorary secretary and an honorary treasurer. The vice-presidents will be regional officers, from the following districts: British Columbia, Alberta and Saskatchewan, Manitoba and Thunder Bay district, Ontario and the Maritimes.

ASK SUSPENSION OF MONEY GRANTS FOR MILITIA

Winnipeg.—Demand for cessation of all money grants by the dominion provincial and municipal governments for military purposes was contained in a resolution passed by the all-Canadian Congress of Labor in annual convention here.

Abolition of the entire cadet movement from Canadian schools was also demanded in the resolution, which urged that no further money grants be made for cadets.

Heated opposition by a number of delegates to the clauses demanding that no money grants be made for military purposes by the various governments kept the issue before the convention for the greater part of the afternoon and only by a small margin was the resolution passed.

Alleged discrimination by certain United States industries operating in Canada was brought out in debate on a report of the executive board reviewing labor conditions in Canada. Feeling against the International Labor Union was manifested by several speakers. The American firms were alleged to have demanded that no other unionists but those belonging to the international union be given employment.

It was charged in the executive board's report that the craft unions, controlled by the American Federation of Labor, were responsible for the "impotence of the workers, politically and economically, in their own country, and responsible for the slight regard in which labor had been held in Canada."

The congress decided to request the Ontario government that boarding schools be constructed at intervals of not more than 120 miles in the territory west of the Great Lakes to the Manitoba boundary.

German Air Liner Wrecked

Six Persons Were Killed and Two Injured In Crash

Morden Park, Surrey, England.—Six persons were killed and two injured in the crash of a big German air liner bound for Berlin from Croydon. Three of those killed were passengers and three were crew members.

One of the survivors was Prince Eugene Schuamburg-Lippe, second cousin of a former reigning prince of one of the oldest German royal houses. He was acting as a co-pilot. The prince was injured but is expected to recover. The other injured man, Lieut.-Commander Glen Kidston, widely known racing motorist, suffered cuts.

The crash which was followed by the machine bursting into flames, is believed to have been caused by the pilot flying into a hillside during a fog.

Behind the remnants of the air liner was a large tree which had been torn from the ground by the big machine's last lunge. The crash and the burst of flames followed instantly, and, after a few blazing seconds, there remained only the charred wreckage in which the victims had been trapped.

Coming To Canada

Thousands of Men, Monks Would Leave Russia For This Dominion

Moscow.—Three thousand Siberian peasants of German descent, mostly Mennonites, have received passports to migrate to Canada. Before granting the passports the Soviet authorities exacted full payment of taxes and specified that the emigrants deposit all their possessions in Soviet banks, since exportation of rubles is forbidden.

Seven thousand of the would-be emigrants are concentrated in camps around Moscow obtaining passports at the rate of 100 per day.

Dog Rescues

Wounded Trapper

Carried Note To Nearest Camp and Returned With Help

Nakina, Ont.—Once again a man owes his life to the intelligence and faithfulness of a dog. Andrew Syvick, 22, accidentally shot himself when he drew a revolver from his holster while hunting at an isolated camp at Pine Lake.

Realizing his predicament and knowing that he could not reach the nearest trapper's cabin himself, Syvick scribbled a note and fastening it to his dog's collar, ordered the animal to proceed to the nearest camp, owned by Thomas Hughes.

The dog ran through three miles of bush and swam a river to reach Hughes' cabin.

Hughes, with the animal leading the way, reached Syvick's camp and after rendering first aid, brought the man to his own camp. A railway speeder brought the wounded man to Nakina, and he was later rushed to Port Arthur by train.

Aviators Killed In Montreal

Seaplane Of Canadian Government Crashed While Being Tested

Montreal.—Pilot Officer Paul Garon Stanley, 23, of Toronto, and flying officer John L. McLaughlin, 35, of Montreal, were almost instantly killed when a Canadian Vickers "Vette" seaplane which they were testing for the Canadian government crashed in a field near Saint-Aux-Recollets. The plane buried its nose in the soft surface of the field and by the time the two aviators were released they were dead, crushed in the wreckage.

McLaughlin was a test inspector and Stanley was flying the seaplane. They had made a previous test flight early in the day but the weather conditions were not suitable for flying and a second flight was attempted in the afternoon. It was believed that the machine had gone into a spin at a time when, owing to the low "ceiling" the pilot was unable to recover before reaching the ground.

"Thirty-five peasant families comprising 322 persons, whose ancestors migrated from Germany to Russia under Catherine the Great, and who, together with about 5,000 other peasants desire to migrate to Canada, arrived here aboard the Soviet steamer "Felix Dzerzhinski," without money or food.

"According to their own statement they were searched bodily before sailing and deprived of all money and food.

"It is rumored the Canadian government has already agreed to pay for their transportation to Canada and to provide the peasants with agricultural tools and other necessities."

Cheers Greet Premier

MacDonald Receives Hearty Welcome From Members Of House

London, Eng.—Taking his place on the front bench of the House of Commons for the first time since his return from his notable visit to America, Premier MacDonald was greeted with loud cheers from the members. Many of them rose to their feet and waved their order papers in salute.

Mr. MacDonald, resuming the leadership of the government in the Commons found a packed a house awaiting what promises to be a highly important utterance on unemployment from Rt. Hon. J. H. Thomas, Lord Privy Seal and Minister of Employment.

This is an issue that friends and foes of labor are watching with the keenest attention and the government's handling of it has vital bearing on its fate.

New York Physicians Say State Conditions In Europe Unbearable

New York.—Senator Royal S. Copeland, of New York, on his return from a twelve weeks' visit to Europe, said he never saw such abject poverty as in the slums of European cities. He said conditions in the poorer sections were almost unbelievable and predicted they would result in an era of disease. "This country," he said, "must guard itself against that by strict immigration regulations. The examination of aliens must be more thorough and there must be more men to do it."

Senator Copeland is a physician and a former commissioner of health in New York City.

PROBLEMS AWAIT NAVAL PARLEY IN JANUARY

Washington.—In the swing of time toward January and the five-power disarmament conference in London, the government here and officials of the state and navy departments are hard at work upon the case for the United States, while in the midst of Great Britain and the United States are agreed upon what status it is necessary for each to maintain in the much-discussed cruiser class. It has been emphasized here again and again that no satisfactory agreement may be arrived at without the assent of all the powers concerned, and this opens a wide field for research containing both technical and political elements.

Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson has been for some weeks past continually in touch with the general board of the navy and he and Under-Secretary of State Joseph P. Cotton, have also consulted frequently with President Hoover.

Ambassador Charles G. Dawes, a fourth member of the delegation, is expected to stay for some time at the White House, during his present visit here from London, an opportunity will be afforded them for complete canvassing of the whole position. Presently, however, the large hope upon the London conference.

The chief problem as the situation is viewed from Washington, concerns the powers of France and Italy and Great Britain and geographically as arrived at in the Mediterranean.

First, France and Italy must arrive at an agreement upon parity, which they may do between themselves. But both France and Italy are opposed to the abolition of the submarine, favored by both Great Britain and the United States.

"The poor man's battleship" has an interesting significance in the Mediterranean wherein is one of the great trade routes of the British Empire.

Another matter which receives attention here is the proposal of France that London results should be validated at Geneva—a suggestion which finds no favor in the United States.

Japan, it is indicated, would like to have her cruiser strength proportionately to the British and American fleets, making her seven to ten instead of as at present.

MENTIONED FOR IMPORTANT POST

Lord Arnold, British paymaster-general, who accompanied Ramsay MacDonald on his visit to this country, is being prominently mentioned in British labor party circles as possible successor to Sir Esmé Howard, British ambassador to the United States, soon to return from Washington.

Americans Settling

In Saskatchewan

Many Farmers Coming To Make Homes In Canada

North, Portal, Sask.—Despite the wintry weather settlers from the United States are coming to Western Canada. During the past few days six carloads of stock and effects have cleared customs at this port. Alfred Haskins shipped two cars from Wendell, Minn., to Anselord, Sask., where he had farmed for some years, but a year ago returned to Minnesota and started in poultry and dairy farming. The call of the broad prairies was too strong.

Frank McKnight, also a Canadian many years ago, shipped two cars from Noley, Mont., to Leslie, Sask., where he is renting land from a brother. "While in the 30 yards at Portal, N.D., Mr. McKnight was struck by a freight engine, his leg being injured so that he had to be taken to a hospital for treatment. His stock and effects were looked after by Clarence Reed, who was a neighbor at Montana and who also is immigrating to Leslie, Sask., with a car of stock. Mr. McKnight was able to leave the hospital later and left for Leslie on a passenger train.

L. Matzdorf, from Burlington, N. D., shipped a car to Hythe, Alta., where he has taken a homestead.

Russian Airman Ask Permission To Resume Return Journey

New York.—Four Russian aviators, members of the crew of the "Land of the Soviets," which flew from Moscow to New York, have wired Soviet officials for permission to fly across the Atlantic ocean to England. They hope to leave in two weeks from Harbor Grace, Newfoundland.

Sergeon Anshastov is chief pilot and commander of the Soviet plane, and P. E. Bolotov, B. V. Sterligov, and D. V. Fufayev, are members of the crew.

TWO GREAT PREMIERS MEET

India Favors Idea Of Dominion Status

British Viceroy's Declaration Has Removed Tension From Politics

New Delhi, India.—Opinion in India has now crystallized into definite comment on the Viceroy's historic declaration of November 3, making it clear that the favorable response is wider than might have been expected. The Viceroy's affirmation of the British government's desire that India should attain dominion status in the fulness of time, and pointing out a conference should be held in London to clear up relations between British India and the native states of India, is described as removing with one bold stroke all the electric tension from Indian politics.

Anglo-Indian newspapers not only were the first to describe the announcement as wise, but they also resented the opposition voiced in the British press. Both progressive and press opinion is being modelled on the lines of the statement issued by 30 members of the Indian National Congress and other leaders, including M. Gandhi, great upholder of Indian nationalism. This statement gives conditional acceptance, suggesting a division should be held in India into the government of the country under a new constitution for India actually comes into existence.

The depressed masses and Indian Christians welcome the Viceroy's announcement and ask that their interests be protected at the conference.

RELATIONS WITH RUSSIA RESTORED BY LABOR PARTY

London, Eng.—Full diplomatic relations are to be restored between Great Britain and Russia.

By a vote of 324 to 199 the House of Commons have approved the government's motion for resumption of such relations and at the same time rejected a Conservative amendment which had condemned any resumption until the preliminary conditions have been satisfied. There were stipulations in regard to Soviet propaganda.

The decision regarding Russia capped a full day in both the House of Commons and the House of Lords, for the upper chamber was occupied with the latest development in the Indian constitutional problem. Such a day is not often experienced, even at Westminster.

The Commons began eagerly, expecting Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald's report of his mission to the United States, and his subsequent visit to Canada. Scarcely had Mr. MacDonald concluded when the House of Lords began a debate on the "mystery" of the proclamation by Lord Irwin, viceroy of India, which affirmed the British Government's desire to accord full dominion status to India in the fulness of time.

The doom of the Conservative amendment regarding relations with Russia was speedily sounded in the House of Commons by Right Hon. David Lloyd George, Liberal leader, who wielded his hammer of power. Right Hon. Stanley Baldwin, who charged Right Hon. Arthur Henderson, foreign secretary, with "surrendering" to the Soviet representative in the negotiations leading to resumption of relations. Mr. Henderson replied there had been any surrender.

The foreign secretary stressed that under the new protocol, the governments of Great Britain and Russia would reciprocally confirm the pledge in regard to propaganda immediately the actual exchange of ambassadors took place.

Mr. Lloyd George then indicated the Liberal attitude by describing the break in relations with Russia initiated by the former Conservative Government, when Arosa House, in London, was raided "as an act of supreme silliness." He concluded "I say God speed the foreign secretary."

Several Conservatives supported the Labor Government in the division. These included Lady Astor, John Buchan (noted novelist), and Robert Boothby, member for Eastern Aberdeen and Kincardine.

The vote approving the government's motion for restoration of relations, marked the first definite accomplishment of Mr. MacDonald's government since other negotiations in the foreign fields, as well as schemes for relief of domestic unemployment, have yet to be submitted for parliamentary approval.

Not a single dominion had expressed opposition to the policy which had been pursued, declared Mr. Henderson. Replies received by the government indicated it was generally recognized that the renewal of relations sooner or later was inevitable.

GERMANY SEEKS RESTORATION OF LOST COLONIES

Paris, France.—Germany, having gained satisfaction on her demand for an early evacuation of the Rhineland by the Allies and seeing experts gathered to discuss her request for a return of the Saar and its rich mines, is now looking ahead to the last of her ambitions, the restoration of her colonies lost by the treaty of Versailles.

French political pessimists contend that there is no reason to believe that Germany will fail in this mission any more than she did in the others. Officially, the French government insists that there have been no overtures and that the question has been settled by the peace treaty.

The peace treaty has been altered so many times, however, that, as M. Clemenceau said recently, he could no longer recognize it as a child of his. Under the peace treaty, the French troops were to remain in the Rhineland until 1935, and at that time the Saar was to decide by plebiscite whether it would become French or German. All that has been wiped off the book is long ago.

At Versailles, Germany signed away her claim to her colonies: Kamerun, Togo, Southwest Africa, Tanganyika, Ruanda-Urundi, New Guinea, Nauru Island, Corea, Formosa, Koutouchou and Loochoo. These peoples were placed under mandate to France, Belgium, England, Japan, and the British dominions of Australia, New Zealand and Union of South Africa.

These former German possessions are no longer colonies, but mandated territories, expensive heirlooms of the war to those who inherited their care. The mandate holders are privileged to spend vast sums of money in aid up and governing the mandated territories, but get nothing but worries in return.

R.C.M.P. Officers Transferred

Several Stations Reorganized Through Retirement Of Supt. Ritchie, Edmonton

Ottawa.—A transfer of officers in the Royal Canadian Mounted Police has been announced by Commissioner Stearns.

The reorganization of several stations is caused by the retirement of Supt. James Ritchie, Edmonton, after 38 years of service.

His place will be taken by R. B. Acland, Regina, formerly an inspector but recently promoted to superintendent. He will have charge of the work of the police in northern Alberta.

J. W. Spalding, also of Regina, formerly an inspector, has also been promoted to the rank of superintendent and given charge of the work in southern Saskatchewan.

Staff-Sergeant R. E. Mercer, Regina, has been promoted to the rank of inspector and will have charge of the Regina sub-district.

Gives Report On Settlement

Canadian Congress Of Labor Has Idea To Absorb Immigration

Winnipeg.—Large scale development of unoccupied areas in Canada through agricultural and industrial development is recommended by the executive board of the all-Canadian Congress of Labor, in the board report submitted to the third annual convention. Such a plan, it is advanced, would absorb immigration to this country without detriment to the Dominion. The co-operative settlement idea advanced by the Labor Congress executive is stated to be based on a plan advanced by Rt. Hon. George Lansbury, M.P., first commissioner of works in the Labor government of Great Britain. Attention was directed to an interview with Mr. Lansbury published in a current edition of the Canadian Unionist, organ of the All-Canadian Congress of Labor.
